A little son of Mr. William Hland, of this county, is reported quite ill of typhoid fever.

Mr. J. H. Dalton bought the land some residence, owned by F. P. Stone, on Crab Orchard street, for $2,500. Every body welcomes Mr. Dalton to this city.

Mrs. Annie Singleton has been offered and accepted a position as matron at Madison Female Institute. She will enter upon her new duties in September.

John Estes and Miss Viola Sargent, both of this place, were married in Richmond, last Friday. The bride will be remembered as the pretty young Miss who has been selling tickets for Mr. Sargent's picture show.

Variety of Lands.
The land sales made this week in the county prove the fact that any quality or priced land can be found in this country. It will be observed that we have lands ranging from one dollar an acre, in the knobs 17 miles from town, to $115 per acre as you approach town.

Court Day.
We were glad to see a larger crowd in town Monday than has been here for two courts. Business was better and the farmers in better spirits than on the two previous court days.

Capt. Am. Horne reports the following prices on live stock: Age mules from $100 to $160; horses $60 to $125; cows, $20 to $22.50; cattle from $4 to 4 cents.

Indians.
The famous Cherokee Indians will play the Lancaster base ball team Monday afternoon at three o'clock and the same night at eight o'clock. This team of Indians carry with them their own electric lights and during the night game, there will be used 50 arc lights making 50,000 candle power. Playing ball at night has just been inaugurated in the larger cities, and we are lucky to get an opportunity to see a game by night. It will be worth coming miles to see.

Big Deal

J. J. Walker, R. H. Hatton and C. A. Arnold, trustees appointed by the court to receive, invest and control the bequest given to Lancaster Graded School, by the late Lewis Y. Leavell, purchased 266 acres of land from Dr. W. M. Elliott for $115 per acre and 178 acres from B. F. Hudson for $110 per acre. These lands form a part of the Beazley place on the Lexington road and are richly worth the money. The income from this $50,000 investment will be a great benefit to the school.

Big Deal

Mr. Richard S. Veech and Mrs. Mattie B. Ross were united in marriage at 12 o'clock today at the home of the bride, 121 East Gray street, the Rev. T. S. Thosley, pastor of the Third Christian church performing the ceremony.

Only close friends and relatives of the groom and bride were in attendance. Mr. and Mrs. Veech left immediately after the ceremony on a Pennsylvania train for New York City, where they will spend several days before returning to Louisville.

Mr. Veech is a well-known citizen of Louisville, being a director of the United States Trust Company and other financial institutions. Mrs. Veech is a daughter of Mrs. Ossie Huffman. She moved to Louisville with her mother ten or twelve years ago from Lancaster, Ky., where her father, Mr. John Huffman, until his death, conducted the Lancaster Hotel. Mrs. Veech, on her mother's side, is related to the well known Elkin family of Garrard county.—Evening Post of Aug. 24th.

Mrs. Mary Lee Glynn, who lives near Hubble, was "at home" to a number of friends on Wednesday evening.

Embroidery Club.

The Embroidery Club was entertained Wednesday afternoon by Misses Martha and Helen Gill. The members will have the pleasure of two meetings in one week, as Mrs. H. K. Herndon entertains them this Friday, at her beautiful country home.

Big Farm Sale.

Dunn & Adams, the well-known real estate agents, Wednesday morning sold to Dr. W. M. Elliott the farm of James Martin in the Marcellina neighborhood, the consideration being $20,000. The place contains 213 acres and is located beyond Boyle in Garrard county. This is one of the best sales that has recently been made in this locality.—Kentucky Advocate.

Commissioners Sales.

Master Commissioner, J. Mort Rothwell, made the following sales of land Monday. Some of this land is in Rockcastle county, and the knob land which sold so cheap is near the county line. The first five are different sections of J. H. Carter's estate:

David Carter bought 119 acres for $3,000; George Allen 336 acres for $20,000; E. F. Robins, 48 acres for $10,500; George Allen, 284 acres for $34; Dave Carter, 141 acres for $10; E. Whitehead, 75 acres for $28; H. W. Cornish, 204 acres for $20.

The following are other Commissioner sales: The Wages farm of about 227 acres was sold to J. W. Elmore for $15,000 and the J. C. Clouse farm of 88 acres was sold to W. H. Purr for $1,000.

No Place Like Home.

M. D. Hughes on his return from Washington made the following remark. "While I have written truthfully of the great North West and its wonderful resources, and while I had a royal time in company with the loved ones who reside there, I am nevertheless wedded to Kentucky's vine-clad hills, her fertile valleys, her lowing herds, her fine horses and her beautiful women. While the West exceeds us in the production of wheat, fruit, lumber interests and the advantage of foreign trade, we have a greater variety of crops and enjoy a substantial and constant growth in every thing that is desirable. It has been truly said that Kentucky is the garden spot of the world, and it is equally true that Lancaster and Garrard county constitute the most beautiful flower bed in that garden. When I went out with my partner, Swinebroad, in the buckboard, under the red umbrella, driving the old black mare, to sell a farm, I felt more comfortable than when crossing the continent in a Pullman car."

Veech - Robson.

Mr. Richard S. Veech and Mrs. Mattie B. Ross were united in marriage at 12 o'clock today at the home of the bride, 121 East Gray street, the Rev. T. S. Thosley, pastor of the Third Christian church performing the ceremony.

Only close friends and relatives of the groom and bride were in attendance. Mr. and Mrs. Veech left immediately after the ceremony on a Pennsylvania train for New York City, where they will spend several days before returning to Louisville.

Mr. Veech is a well-known citizen of Louisville, being a director of the United States Trust Company and other financial institutions. Mrs. Veech is a daughter of Mrs. Ossie Huffman. She moved to Louisville with her mother ten or twelve years ago from Lancaster, Ky., where her father, Mr. John Huffman, until his death, conducted the Lancaster Hotel. Mrs. Veech, on her mother's side, is related to the well known Elkin family of Garrard county.—Evening Post of Aug. 24th.

Our Graded School.

The school board of the Lancaster Graded School at the last meeting decided to lengthen the school year from nine to ten months. This movement will put us in the front rank of Graded Schools. Our four years High School Course has the approval of the educational commission of the State of Kentucky. The addition of four weeks to the school year will enable us to give our pupils thorough preparation for college work and to further enrich the course of study.

School will open Monday September 6th. It is hoped that every one who expects to enrol with us will be present on the first day. The teachers of last year have all been retained except Miss Knapp West who declined to stand for re-election, and whose place will be filled by Miss Lillian Stanford of Owen county. The school building is being thoroughly cleaned preparatory to the opening. By this time next year we ought to have a new building. The health and comfort of the children demand it. Better equipment is necessary for the highest character of class room work. The good of the town—financial as well as moral—calls for a decided forward step. Let every man who has a care for the welfare of his town lend a hand in this movement for school improvement.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

To the Republican party of Garrard county: I am the Republican nominee for County Attorney and will appreciate your support. H. D. Herndon.

We hear that Mr. R. S. Brown, the republican nominee for sheriff, declined to accept the nomination. He has certainly acted wisely as there was no chance to win in the race by starting after the Democratic nominees have gone half way around the track and are sure to win. In fact the odds are five to one on every democratic entry. Messrs Alex Layton and Allie F. Sanders have been nominated for sheriff, on the Republican ticket, but we cannot believe that they will continue in the race, after seeing the situation. Trouble and expense for nothing boys.

The Democratic ticket will surely win if they get a fair count, and they are going to look out for fair play. They will not submit to foul methods in manipulating ballots. The party is as well united as usual. Democrats feel that they are obligated to support the nominees and the few that fall to do so will amount to no more than a tempest in a tea-pot. A republican who expects to be elected by Democratic votes should have a guardian appointed. Don't be duped. We have a good ticket and party allegiance will prevail.

The general trade outlook is most encouraging, the volume of orders in the hands of merchants and manufacturers being probably greater than at any time since the fall of 1907. There is every prospect of a rising tide in business and of unprecedented activity this coming winter if not before.

It is reported that a paper will be published at Hustonville. The promoters certainly did not consider the fact that they will be in the territory and shadow of that excellent and able paper, the Interior Journal, which has so many faithful patrons, who will always support it, and they are not likely to patronize two.

The eighth district will be well represented at the Jeffersonian Barberie next week as Hon. Harvey Helm has accepted an invitation to deliver a speech. Judge M. C. Sankey was invited but declined on account of business engagements.

The republicans only favored a corporation tax to side track the income tax and, by degrees, take away any State control of corporations. This is in keeping with their doctrine of destroying State lines.

Seven killed by the automobile races, at Indianapolis, is a fair start toward making that amusement equal to foot ball and fireworks. They are not all dead yet.

We congratulate our neighboring town, Danville, on the great increase in population during the past few years, and hope the growth will steadily increase.

The pessimist, who said that the rains would ruin the crops, is eating crow, as they are fine, and the farmer is happy.

THE STATE FAIR

KENTUCKY PEOPLE ALL AGOG OVER COMING EVENT.

A HANDSOME PRIZE LIST

THIRTY THOUSAND DOLLARS OFFERED IN PRIZES FOR WEEK OF SEPTEMBER 13TH TO 18TH.

DETAILS OF SOME OF THE CHIEF ATTRAC-TIONS TO BE PRESENTED THIS YEAR.

Thirty thousand dollars makes a very handsome prize list. This amount will be offered at the Seventh annual Kentucky State Fair, which is scheduled for the week of September 13th to 18th, inclusive. The marvelous piece of work accomplished in the incomparably short time of three months last season, in which the largest, most useful and most beautiful show pavilion in the world, and a permanent grand stand of steel and concrete construction were erected, a model half mile race track was built and some forty or more buildings of a more temporary nature, for the housing of all livestock, agricultural, horticultural exhibits, etc., were completed, is fresh in the minds of those who witnessed last year's exhibition. With the addition of road ways, flower beds and installation of electric lights in the pavilion for the use of horse show and hippodrome performances in the evening, the grounds will present a grander and more brilliant spectacle this year. In nearly every department, the number of classes have been increased and more liberal prizes are offered. This is especially true in the beef, cattle and poultry departments, in each of which the total money offered is probably thirty per cent larger than last year. The special prizes are much more attractive and represent a greater value than ever before. The honor and prestige of winning many of these trophies is infinitely greater than the intrinsic value of the prize itself. The special lists include the "Highland Home" cup, which is donated by Gay Bros. of Plough, Ky., for the best and finest saddle bred foal of 1908; the American saddle horse breeders' association trophy for registered stallion or mare three years old or under; the Montgomery chief special of $125 offered by Ball Bros., Versailles, Ky., for the finest and best stallion, mare or gelding any age by Montgomery Chief; the $1,000 Kentucky farmer saddle horse trophy for saddle bred foals of 1909, the only saddle horse futurity in existence, which closed April 1st with 223 nominations; the comisisoner of agriculture saddle horse special, value $200 for the best five gaited saddle stallion, mare or gelding three years old or over; a handsome cup for the champion roaster, given by Mr. Basil Doerhofer of Louisville; the Dr. McCord cup for the best herd of jack stock offered by Mr. W. P. Hayes of Bloomfield, Ky.; the grand silver trophy offered by the American Berkshire Swine Association for best young herd of Berkshires exhibited by Kentucky breeder, which is the coveted honor of the show among Berkshires breeders in every state; an aggregate sum of nearly $400 given by Commissioner Rankin for all the leading standard varieties of poultry; a silver cup donated by Mr. F. H. Behringer for best exhibit of Kentucky breed poultry; specials by the Southdown Hampshire and Oxford Sheep Record Association for exhibits of pure-bred sheep respectively champion; and the American Angora Goat Breeders' Association special for the best flock of registered Angora kids.

In the cattle departments the money consideration for specials is the greatest and the classification most extensive. The American Shorthorn Breeders' Association and the Amherst-Herdorf Cattle Breeders' Association have each donated $750 for pure bred cattle of these respective breeds, one-half to be given in open competition and one-half to go to those owned by Kentucky exhibitors. These offers were made on condition that the State Fair management would set apart $1,000 in premiums for each of these breeds. This was done, thereby making a total of $1,750 for each breed. This is the largest amount ever offered for either Shorthorn or Hereford at any state fair or exposition south of the Ohio river, and perhaps equals the aggregate prize money at any exhibition in America this year with the exception of the national breed shows. The Polled Durham Association of America renews its offer of $100 in special prizes for Polled Durhams. The American Aberdeen Angus Breeders' Association, for the first time in several years, comes forward with a very liberal offer of $200 in specials for its breed. As a very gratifying innovation in the prize list, the Dairy Cattle Department contains some valuable specials. Through the generous liberality of the Illinois-Pennsylvanian Association of America, the State Fair management has been enabled to double the amount of prize money for this dairy breed and to place its classification almost on a par with the Jersey, which has been the favorite dairy breed in the south ever since its importation to this country, and the Kentucky Jersey cattle club will give a cup valued at $50.00 for the best Jersey here of one bull and four heifers under one year old, bred by a Kentucky exhibitor. There are also numerous specials offered by Hon. M. G. Rankin, commissioner of agricultural departments, the most prominent of which are for county exhibits, $150,000 being offered for the best and largest display of farm, garden and orchard products. This has been a very interesting and educational feature at many of the leading state fairs for a number of years and will undoubtedly prove a success and boon to agricultural interest of Kentucky.

SUPERINTENDENTS OF DEPARTMENTS AT THE KENTUCKY STATE FAIR.

As usual most experienced and capable superintendents of departments have been appointed. R. H. Lillard, of Lawrenceburg, has for the third time been chosen superintendent of the horse department, and William Simmons, of Shepherdsville, will again be in charge of the mule exhibit. W. H. Moorman, Jr., of Glendale, is superintendent of beef cattle and Edgar Vaughn, of Shivelyville, will for the eighth consecutive year be superintendent in the dairy cattle department. As you are aware by depositing your money in a bank for a year you receive 3 per cent interest. By saving the Gold Trading Stamp you will draw on interest of 3 per cent and over on money that you have already spent, this interest being collectable whenever you buy one of our little books filled with stamps. However, in order to obtain this, you will necessarily have to trade at the stores it takes but a short time to fill a book.

Remember, merchants want you to ask for Gold Trading Stamps and will gladly give one stamp for every $100 represented in your purchase. If you will only ask for it. Bear in mind, these merchants make no advance in the prices of their goods, but on the contrary the increase of trade secured for them by this plan will enable them to sell lower than the lowest. A call will convince you at any of these stores.

Strange Idiosyncrasies and Opinions of Some Grey-haired People and Those Affected with Scalp and Hair Troubles

New York City sends out more salesmen, twice over, in all probability, than any other city in the world. At an unusual banquet given by a big firm to its salesmen there were present some two hundred gray-haired and bald-headed salesmen. It was a subject of mournful discussion among them that men were commencing to prefer younger men. One old patriarch, gray-haired and bald-headed in the service, remarked to several gathered around him: "Here I am doing as good if not better work than I ever did in my life; yet, because I am commencing to show my age, am slated for the 'has-been' division. I wish I knew of something that would turn my hair to the color of that of a lusty man of thirty."

"Why don't you use Q-Han Hair Restorer?" suggested one of his audience.

"Friends," answered the old fellow, "I once visited the plant of a big patent medicine firm. On my way through one room, I asked one of the employers what they put up there. 'Hair Restorer,' I was told. 'Well, I want to say that among the employees working in that room I never in life saw together so many gray-haired and bald-headed people!'" "A right," replied the other. "I have a good head of fine brown hair, haven't I? Well, my hair three months ago, before I came with this firm, was a fine iron gray, I used Q-Han Hair Restorer, and it cleared her scalp, stopping her hair from falling out, and I'll bet its increased the length six inches!" "Where can you get it?" "Oh, at any drug store, and the druggist will back up the guarantee."

R. E. McRoberts recommends and sells these preparations.

If you are gray-haired or your hair commences to fade, you can have the best bottle free, simply call and ask for it.

THE CALL OF THE PRAIRIE.

I T is very fine
For the prairie to play
For a "Life on the ocean waves."
But I'm no contrary;
I have beat the prairie;
And over her beauties I rode.

The smell of the deep,
In the prairie has
Of the foliage has
of the grain,
And the ripple and rump
Of time—mosaic-Ink's Is more sweet than the song of the morn.

So sing all you please
of the life of it would be wary,
Give me the refrain
The free call of the photo,
And the ill and the lure of the prairie.

The cheerful grouch on women's smoking.

"I'm opposed to women smoking—decidedly opposed!" and the cheerful Grouch looked up from a book she was reading on the Emancipation of Women.

"Unites her less feminine?" some body suggested.

"Not at all," shaped the C. G. "On the contrary, it makes her more so.
She does it either with especial grace and style, or she is an extremely awkward about it man to emphasize her femininity."

"Too expensive, perhaps?" was the next offer.

"Not more so than bonbons; and the only kind of women who smoke are the sort who can afford it."

"What kind are they, please?" was asked, and the C. G. sat upright, and with a withering look: "Now, if you expected a sly answer you'll be disappointed; I've known many varieties of woman who smoked, good, bad and indifferent. It rather spoiled them for me, but that's a personal prejudice. Beside, all the old reasons have been harped on; mine is new; it's the smell!"

"The smell?"

"Yes; the fact that you can't tell in the dark the clothes of a woman who smokes from those of a man.
And where's the fun of hugging your husband's overcoat when he's away, because it smells of tobacco, and reminds you of him? It might be your sister's or your grandmother's, for all the difference. No; I like the cozy, homely atmosphere of smoke that the men bring with them. If we women are to take to the weed we might as well all be old maidens and done with it!"

Oliver Carter Otis, Jr.

VERY ANCIENT GAME IS POLO.

Was Played in China Thousands of Years Ago Under the Name of Horseball.

"One day, while walking along Li-Li-ch'ang, the great book and curio street of Pekin," says a writer in St.
Nicholas, "I stepped into a store to look at some Chinese paintings. The street is more than a mile in length, not very wide and not particularly clean, but it is the model street in all upper China and one of the most remarkable in the world. It contains nothing but book stores and curio stores."

"There you will find a history—not a history of the world—not a universal history, but only a history of China which would fill a two-horse wagon.
There you can also find an encyclopedia which contains as many volumes as there are days in a hundred years. And there you will find the works of a man who, besides governing 400,000,000 people, wrote as many separate poems as there are minutes in two weeks.

"Among many other things the dealer brought out a painting of five men dressed in the style of the Ming dynasty—a garb of four or five hundred years ago, playing polo. The picture was painted on a piece of silk about three and a half feet long and 15 inches wide. The silk had originally been white, but through the years and centuries since it was executed it had turned a beautiful brown.

"I found by the inscription that it had been painted by a man named Chu Ying, the greatest landscape and figure painter of the Ming dynasty, some 400 years ago.

"What are the men doing?" I inquired of the merchant.

"Knocking horse ball," he answered.

"But they are not riding horses;

they are on mules!" I replied.

"Quite right," said he; "a horse would be too large to turn quickly and play easily and he would not be tough enough to stand the game."

"Why, is it a violent game?" I asked.

"I do not know," he continued; "I never saw it played, but I suppose it is. When men are riding mules, turning, twisting, galloping, swinging clubs and yelling, it cannot be very safe. They are liable to run into each other, their mules may fall, or they may be muzzled and trampled under the feet of their antagonists. It is not child's play."

"How long have the Chinese played this game?" I inquired.

"He waved his hand at me in that queer way the Chinese have of saying what they can't answer.

"I do not know. I suppose they have always had it; at least, he modified his statement, 'for 2,500 or 3,000 years.'
